CLEANING UP DAY IN FEDERAL COURT

Sentences Passed on a Number of Culprits--October Term of Criminal Court Will End Tomorrow

This has been "cleaning up" day in United States court. The criminal term will expire by limitation tomorrow evening, and a number of sentences must be passed before then and several unimportant cases tried. Judge J. A. Gill was on the bench when court convened this morning. Verney Harper plead guilty to fornication, and the government therefore decided not to press the case of seduction, as the proof was not clearly established. Attorney J. C. Starr, who appeared for Harper, made a plea for leniency, and this Judge Gill granted, after giving Harper a lecture that he will probably never forget. C. B. Rogers, attorney for Tom Conry, found guilty of cattle stealing and larceny, moved for a new trial, which was overruled, and then entered a plea in arrest of judgment. Eliza Norville was sentenced to the Vinita jail for a month on pleading guilty to introducing. John A. Jordan of Afton plead guilty to the charge of polygamy, but urged in his defense that he thought, when married the second time, that his first and legal wife had obtained a divorce, as she said she had done. The second wife appeared in court and stated that she believed Jordan had indeed been deceived by the first wife. The second wife and Jordan have made arrangements to live together again in case Jordan is discharged. Judge Gill postponed sentence till tomorrow, but intimated that he would put Jordan where he wouldn't marry again for a short time. It is said that since his incarceration he has been in loving correspondence with a Joplin girl. Perry Gamble, an 18 year old boy, plead guilty to introducing. He brought a quart in with him from Chetopa to his home, nine miles south of the line. Judge Gill gave the boy a severe lecture, and then suspended sentence, on his promise to obey laws in the future. Tom Condry was, in the afternoon, after the various motions in arrest of judgment had been denied, sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Judge Gill declared that only the defendant's youth,--he is but 21 years old,--saved him from the full five years. Arch Gamble and B. G. Gamble, a brother and cousin respectively of the boy who was lectured in the morning, were also arraigned on the charge of introducing, and both plead guilty. Judge Gill thought they were trying to deceive him in telling their story asking for leniency, and so had them sent to jail over night, while he studies their case. Delaney Pulley, a negro girl, plead guilty to introducing and had sentence suspended. She said she brought in the alcohol for some person, whose name was not mentioned in court, who

A NOVELTY INDICT TWO

Something New In Bareback Riding Will Be Seen Here The Government Finally Acts in Creek Roll Cases

At last a novelty has arrived in the way of bareback riding. It even goes so far as to interpret a dramatic sketch a-horseback. To the great Adam Forepaugh and Sells Bros. Circus is due this refreshing innovation. A gaily dressed and buoyant party of young people on their way to the "French Derby" in a radiantly fashionable park drag drawn by four spirited horses, are the participants in this unique and thrilling act. These smartly gowned young people perform wonderful feats in an apparent spirit of youthful abandonment. They toss each other from the farthest seat of the splendid trap to the foremost horse's back with the graceful ease of a twirling ball, and revolve from each other's heads and shoulders to an upright position upon the swiftly moving vehicle or horse. They pass each other high in the air in twisting evolutions from wagon to horse and horse to wagon. Gymnastic turns of the utmost difficulty and rarity are enacted by them in these hazardous positions with the same graceful ease and nicety of precision that characterize the most thrilling work of world-renowned performers upon the secure foundation of the ground. This act is distinctly new and sensationally startling, and is called "On the Way to the Grand Prix Race, Paris." Will exhibit here Friday, October 19.

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 12--W. T. Martin, Jr., a former employee of the Dawes commission, and M. F. Dunleavey, a prominent real estate man of this city, were today indicted by the federal grand jury on the charge of the theft from the government offices a year ago of the Creek Indian rolls. They were arrested and released under bond of $1,000 each. The reception given last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wade in honor of the faculty of Willis Haisell college was one of the most pleasant affairs of the kind ever held in town. The handsome Wade residence had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, and it was thronged all evening with guests. The reception was given by Mrs. Wade and these ladies: Mrs. J. F. Quillian, Mrs. L. F. Parker, Mrs. W. H. Kornegay, Mrs. C. W. Day, Mrs. J. S. Thompson. The guests of honor were the members of the faculty of Willis Haisell college. Refreshments were served during the evening, and there was music by Mr. E. B. Davidson, Mrs. O. L. James, Mr. O. L. James, Mrs. D. R. Anderson and Miss Fields.

Havana, Oct. 12--General Funston was a guest this evening at a farewell dinner given in his honor by Cuban veterans.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

Full deep breathing of pure air is one of the best possible cures for bilious attacks, indigestion, chronic dyspepsia and, in fact, almost any weakness of the bodily system. To Cure Sore Throat--Take a lump of resin as large as a walnut, put it in an old teapot, pour boiling water on it, put the lid on, pour the spent water into your mouth, and the steam will cure the inflammation. Never toss a baby; such treatment is injurious to the brain, and many an attack of convulsions is caused by it. Gentle movement up and down is a different thing, delights a baby, and is good for his digestion. Four hours is the longest interval during which children should go without food in the daytime, and something, if it is only a drink of milk and a biscuit, should always be given them the last thing before going to bed. When poison has been accidentally swallowed no emetic is better than mustard. Mix three teaspoonfuls with a cupful of warm water and swallow. At once the stimulative action upon the stomach causes that organ to reject all its contents, the poisonous ingredients with the rest. The emetic of mustard leaves no ill effect behind it, but instead, a feeling of pleasant warmth and stimulus. It is one of the quickest of all emetics and the most harmless.--Good Literature.

RECEPTION TO THE FACULTY

The reception given last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wade in honor of the faculty of Willis Haisell college was one of the most pleasant affairs of the kind ever held in town. The handsome Wade residence had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, and it was thronged all evening with guests. The reception was given by Mrs. Wade and these ladies: Mrs. J. F. Quillian, Mrs. L. F. Parker, Mrs. W. H. Kornegay, Mrs. C. W. Day, Mrs. J. S. Thompson. The guests of honor were the members of the faculty of Willis Haisell college. Refreshments were served during the evening, and there was music by Mr. E. B. Davidson, Mrs. O. L. James, Mr. O. L. James, Mrs. D. R. Anderson and Miss Fields.

BUYS LEASES ON 2,600 ACRES

The Standard Oil & Gas company yesterday afternoon disposed of its interests to the Vinita Gas company. The Standard was incorporated by Vinita parties, and owned leases on 2,600 acres of undeveloped property in the Coodys Bluff field. The Vinita Gas company is the corporation which has recently acquired of the Warren company the franchise for supplying this city with gas, and as its gas properties lie in the Coodys Bluff field, it purchased the Standard properties in order to be assured of plenty of gas.

Wheeling 4W. Va., Oct. 12--Harry Bishop of Wheeling, a boy supposed to have been murdered here recently, returned home today. He said that he had been in Pennsylvania. The father fainted when the boy appeared. A body supposed to be Bishop's was found in the water and buried in the family tomb, after the coroner had returned a verdict of murder. The insurance company had paid the insurance on the boy's life.

BURIED IN THE DEBRIS

Marshall, Mo., Oct. 12--In the destruction by flames here today of the home of F. W. Mills, a grocer, Bentley Green, age 18, was crushed to death by a falling chimney while attempting to rescue the inmates Oscar Page barely escaped death in a like manner. Several occupants of the house were forced to jump from upper windows. It is believed that two others are buried in the debris.

T. M. Barnsdall, the big oil and gas man, accompanied by Mr. O'Neil of Webb City, Mo., were in the city today. It is believed, tho there is nothing official about it, that Mr. Barnsdall is to supply a part at least of the gas to be used by the Vinita Gas company.

ARRANGING FOR VICE PRESIDENT

Republican Club Met Last Night and Appointed Committees for Arranging the Entertainment

The Vinita Republican club held a largely attended and very enthusiastic meeting last night in the court house to make preparations for the entertainment here on Tuesday, October 23, of Vice President Fairbanks. A large part of the money needed for the entertainment proposed was subscribed last night, and the finance committee, consisting of Captain G. S. White, J. P. Scott, B. F. McFarland and T. H. Finley, will at once get busy collecting the remainder of what is needed. Other committees were appointed as follows: Entertainment: J. H. Butler, A. M. Etchen, J. C. Wilkinson, P. W. Bonfoey, M. A. Sorrel. Invitations and advertising: J. C. Wilkinson, W. M. Simms, R. M. McClintock, George Clark, Jr., Louis Muldrow. Speakers: Judge J. A. Gill, C. B. Rogers, H. F. Watson. Arrangements and speakers' stand: Ed Shanahan, W. R. Badgett, J. C. Wilkinson, Joe Wheat, George Hendricks.

Music: E. B. Davidson, O. L. James, R. H. Beard, G. N. Bebout, Louis Muldrow, A. A. Hawkins. The vice president will be in Vinita only in the evening, so necessarily the greater part of the arrangements must be for an evening meeting. It was decided, however, to secure two or three good speakers for an afternoon meeting, and to have a part of the celebration in the afternoon, including a big parade. Another parade, probably with torches, will be held at night. In both these parades, all the Republicans of the northern part of the territory will be invited to participate. It has not been decided where the vice president shall speak, but the stand will probably be erected either on the public square at Illinois avenue and Wilson street or on the school grounds. The merchants will be asked to decorate their buildings, not so much in honor of a Republican speaker as in honor of the vice president of the United States. The decoration committee, however, was instructed to decorate principally with electric lights, using them in great profusion as possible. It is not known who the speakers of the afternoon will be, but several have been suggested, among others Governor Frank Hanly of Indiana, Senator Long of Kansas, Congressman Campbell of Kansas and Congressman Ellis of Missouri. Before adjourning last night a resolution was introduced into the club endorsing J. H. Butler for reappointment as postmaster on the expiration of his present term in December. Mr. Butler has no opposition for the appointment, and has given such universal satisfaction that his endorsement was unanimous and most hearty. He was compelled to make a little speech, to the effect that he hoped he would so conduct the office that no one would be sorry he had voted for him.

In Saving Money the Start is a Very Important Part When the habit of saving is once firmly rooted, the results of saving will manifest themselves. Many persons say it is no use to start a savings account at the bank, because they can save so little. If you can save but little, you ought to be the more anxious to save, by persevering you will presently be surprised at the amount of your savings. A bank account is a great help to the saver.
